Tim Böker & Team

ENDLESS SUMMER

An extremely tangy affair.

Aperol | Thomas Henry Pink Grapefruit
lemon | prosecco

A zesty sundowner packed with summer vibes.
Aperol meets pink grapefruit, a splash of lemon, and a touch of Prosecco. Easy, fresh, and perfect for long evenings.

€17

LIGHT SMASH

An extremely refreshing affair.

Tanqueray Gin | basil cordial
lime | soda

Light, fresh, and just smashing. Gin meets basil, lime adds the zing, and soda keeps it bubbly.
A drink that's cool without trying too hard.

€17

LIMITED CUP

A hint of summer, a flirt in a glass.

Tito's Vodka | rhubarb nectar | jasmin
lime | tonic water

This drink is like a balmy evening in the orchard: fragrant, light and simply irresistible.
A delight for all those who love
floral and fruity flavours.

€17

Fritz & Felix Gin Tonic

A gin and tonic with personality.

Fritz & Felix Gin | tonic water | rosemary

Tart, refreshing and with a touch of the Black Forest.

From pharmacist to bartender

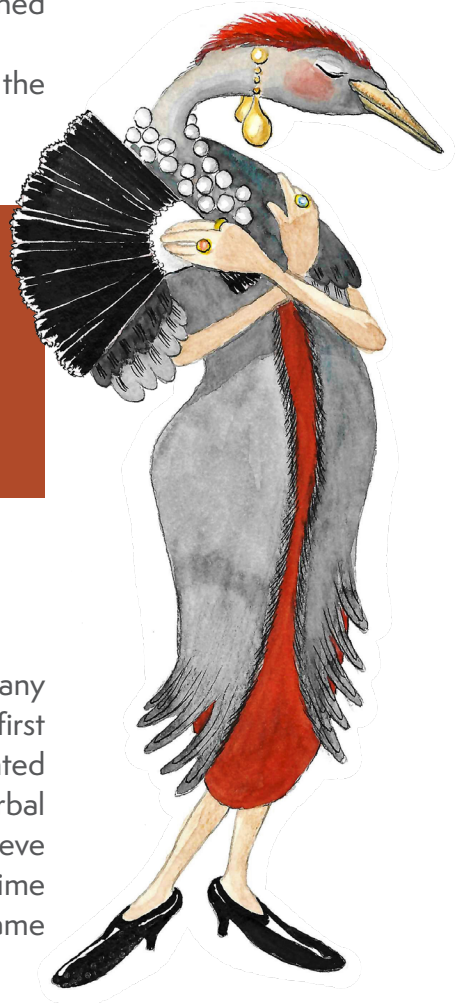

Jerry Thomas, born around 1830 is considered one of the most famous and most influential bartenders of the Past. Already in 1862 Jerry Thomas published the world's first cocktail book "The Bartenders Guide" and paved the way of a golden age.

CLASSIC DRINKS

Travel with us to the past and experience our exclusive selection of classic drinks from the last 150 years.

But how did this job come about?

The origin of the bartender lies many centuries back. Already the first pharmacists in history experimented with alcohols, tinctures and herbal essences to cure diseases and relieve discomfort. It was just a matter of time before the beneficial remedies became very popular.

The global success story of the Italian aperitif started in 1860.

The pioneer of the „Negroni“ is considered to be the „Milano-Torino“, whose name stands for the birthplaces of Campari and Martini, as well as the only one added a shot of water „Americano“.

NEGRONI EXPERIENCE

The world famous Italian classic
- discover fascinating new interpretations of the legendary Florentine aperitif.

The first Americano prepared with gin instead of water ordered Count Camillo Negroni in the famous Florentine „Caffè Casoni“ in 1919. To this day this bitter-tart, after „Count Camillo Negroni“ named Aperitif is one of the most popular Drinks in the world.

The „Boulevardier“ from 1927 was the favorite drink of Erskine Gwynne, the American writer and editor of the Paris magazine „The Boulevardier“.

A very strong and spicy variant of the Italian aperitif

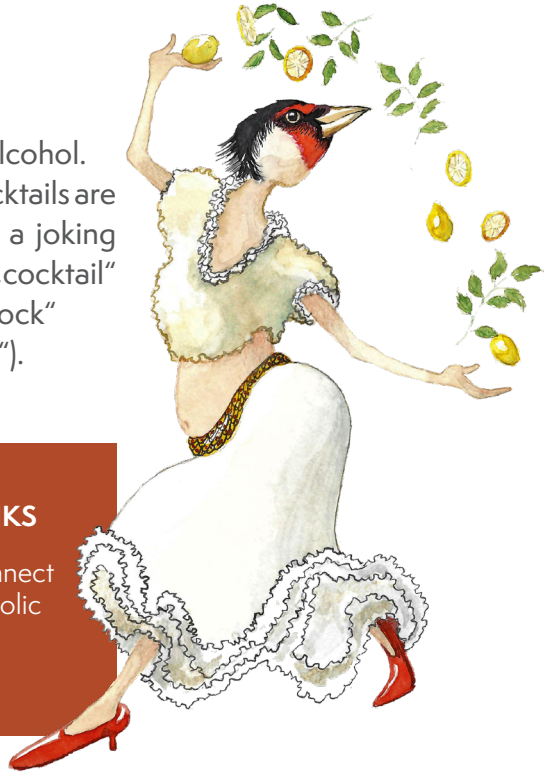

€18

We have fun - even without alcohol. Since the 1960s alcohol-free cocktails are called „mocktails“. This word is a joking word creation from the words „cocktail“ and the english word „to mock“ („to imitate“; „to pretend“).

NON-ALCOHOLIC DRINKS

Creativity and innovation connect effortlessly in our non-alcoholic drinks. True to the motto „Drink & Drive“.

The name „Cocktail“ originated, it is said, during American cockfights in the 18th. century, in which the tail feathers from the loser are entitled to the winner, so one drank „on the cocks tail“.
